

Dear Janice,

Our revised article is attached. This letter summarizes the changes made at the request of the reviewers:

- The paper has been restructured as a review with clinical reports, which led to replacing the title and abstract.
- The relevance of the clinical reports has been clarified. These clinical reports foreshadow the type of research recommended by the authors, in which subjects would ideally remove the variable of porn use to improve investigation of internet porn's effects.
- A few highly relevant studies have come out in the last couple of months and they have been integrated into the paper.
- The material about some users' need for more extreme material to address concerns about sexual performance has been moved to the (b) Decreased Reward Sensitivity (Hypoactivity) section.
- The 2 specific comments of the second reviewer were incorporated or led to correction, as appropriate.
- A few minor grammatical and spacing errors have been corrected and the wording of some sections has been clarified.
